

THE ROBBERY OF RAILWAY TICKETS

The Southern Holds Its Agent Responsible for Them.

OLD WOMAN PLEADS GUILTY

The Elks Preparing for a Grand Parade and Theatrical Performance—Oat Crop Killed, and Wheat Crop Not Much Better. Tobacco Crop Nearly All Sold.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.)
DURHAM, N. C., March 14.—The robbery of the safe in the Southern Railway ticket office Sunday evening, March 10, is still an unsolved mystery. The railroad is demanding of J. E. Lee, the ticket agent, that he make the loss good, because he had not turned over the money to the cashier according to orders. Lee, who is now in Atlanta, Ga., denies any responsibility in the premises, and in this morning's Herald there is a criminal and recrimination by both Lee and the railroad authorities. The end is not yet.

THE CIVIL COURT.
The spring term of Durham County Civil Court is to convene here Monday, the 17th, with Judge Walter H. Neal on the bench. It is a two weeks' term, but the docket is short, and will probably be disposed of the first week.
The mother of Van Fuller, colored, mentioned of whose sentence in the Orange County Court this week to thirty years in the penitentiary, yesterday pleaded guilty as an accomplice, and was given twenty years. She is quite old, and not likely to live out the sentence.
Farmers from all the contiguous territory report that the fall seeded oat crop has been entirely killed by the hard winter, and that they are now plowing up and reseed the land. Wheat is also materially damaged.

THE TOBACCO SALES.
Tobacco receipts are falling off, and dealers estimate that fully nine-tenths of the 1901 crop of this section has been marketed.

The Elks are making preparations for a grand parade, theatrical performance and banquet here on March 26th.
The first instalment of the 1902 "Directory of Greater Durham" has been received and delivered. Its classified census gives, with suburbs, 15,977 population.

DAY IN THE POLICE COURT.

Woman Accused of Buying Furniture on the Installment Plan and Selling It.

Charges that Emma Henderson, alias Ida Bell Henderson, has made her living—and a comfortable one—by the purchase of furniture on the installment plan and the sale of this furniture immediately afterwards, were made in the Police Court yesterday. The woman is now serving a sixty-day sentence for doing something of this kind, and yesterday a new charge, some $50 being involved, was made against her. The case was referred to the Hustings Court.

Barnes Ferguson was fined $10 for fast driving. Frank Borman and Joe Connors, two white boys up as vagrants, were discharged with a warning to get out of town. W. H. Cousins, a negro vagrant, got sixty days for begging. Then came Jeremiah Boykin again, this being his second appearance in two days. First he was up as a vagrant, and on his story of being a Confederate veteran he was discharged. He celebrated the event by getting drunk. Then he got twenty days for this latter offense.
When Robert Allen came to the bar the Court saw for the first time in some moons a distinct and pronounced case of the wiggins. Allen had been drinking heavily for some time and is now a nervous wreck. The Court thought that thirty days would fix him up all right again. Samuel Lunnford, a well known police character, stole a shoe brush and got fifteen days for it.

GRATE STORY.

Negro Under Arrest as Suspicious Character. With Policy Slips in His Pocket.

Reuben Fry got into trouble yesterday afternoon over an old grate that a boy wanted to sell him. He had the grate in his possession when Officer Johnson saw him, and knowing it to be a suspicious thing to see a negro with an old grate he arrested him.
When Reuben was searched at the First Station by Officer Joe Zimmer a number of policy slips were found on his person.

"What are they?" asked Mr. Zimmer.
"I found um in some rags," said Reuben.
"Funny things to find in rags," said Mr. Zimmer.
"Not so very funny," said Reuben.

Reuben will be investigated by Justice Johnson this morning. He was admitted to bail by Squire McCarthy, who is running for re-election in Jackson Ward.

Lecture on Dynamite.

Rev. Dr. John Hammon, pastor of Union Station Methodist Church, will lecture at the Third Presbyterian Church Thursday night, March 20th, for the benefit of the organ fund. His subject will be "Dynamite."
